Go Wireless! With Interactive Ticketing you can validate your tickets from any location without bulky hardware or network connectivity constraints.

Interactive Ticketing's Wireless Scanning Provides the following features:

- Handheld convenience. Our handheld scanners are lightweight and have long-lasting battery operation. This means no wires or bulky computers to validate tickets.
- We bring the Internet to you. Our technology enables our clients to utilize cellular based internet connectivity, enabling real-time communication at locations where Local Area Networks (LANs) are difficult to install, expensive to operate, or are unreliable.
- Easy to use. Set-up is a breeze and training is minimal. Real-time validation can be viewed onscreen or through audible tones, enabling ticket takers to quickly validate without the need to view the onscreen display.
- Fail safe controls. Our technology is capable of validating tickets even without a network connection. This ensures that each scanned ticket is tracked and can later be imported into the central server.

Electric Arrow's Interactive Ticketing Solution is at the forefront of the industry, providing cutting edge wireless scanning options. Wireless technology gives you the freedom to easily validate tickets from any location where establishing a local network connection can be problematic.

Our system is designed to communicate with each scanning location and relay ticket validation details back to the central server. Real-time statistics on redemption rates, scanned tickets, and ticket volume are available at the touch of a button. Fail-safe measures are in place that enables the continued scanning and verification of tickets without a network connection.

If you have an event or attraction where portability across a large area and secure ticket validation are required then look no further than Interactive Ticketing!
